

Experimental Music in June at The Know

Wednesday June 11: Doug Theriault & Yard

To celebrate Doug Theriault's new release on Toast and Jam, he will be giving a rare solo performance. This evening's performance will consist of 2 parts: The first will be the guitar's live sound being processed and controlled by the guitar, through the computer. The second part will be the guitar processing live computer files.

There will also be a question and answer period at the end of the program. Doug Theriault, a guitarist based in Portland, Oregon, works in improvisational live performance. For over a decade he has presented his work all over the United States with a wide variety of musicians and in many festivals.

Cd available from Toast and Jam recordings: <http://www.tandjrec.com/main.html>

Other recordings from Theriault can be obtained here:

Yard will also perform a set of solo laptop/turntable improvisations

Saturday June 28: Rev. 99

audiovisual extravaganza from New York City!

Environmental Improv develops from the reaction/creation of a group of individuals in contact with each other and their environment, especially the technology that represents them visually and sonically. Using live cameras, roll-in DVDs, computer creations, VHS tapes, mini-DVs as sound and visual inputs rev.99 collages a fearsome attack of all things represented.
